Looking Alaska John Green

Looking for Alaska is John Green's first novel, published in March 2005 by Dutton Juvenile. Based on his time at Indian Springs School, Green wrote the novel as a result of his desire to create meaningful young adult fiction. The characters and events of the plot are grounded in Green's life, while the story itself is fictional. Looking for Alaska follows the novel's main character and narrator Miles Halter, or "Pudge," to boarding school where he goes to seek the "Great Perhaps," the famous las

Looking for Alaska - Rotten Tomatoes

Looking for Alaska is a coming of age story in the John Green style. It deals with the angst of teenage relationships in the typical high-language of John Green that you rarely find in adult's mouths let alone teens. But that is the appeal of the Green niche. The dialogue has its wit, the characters have their appeal, and the actors are superb.
