The Last Light of the Sun is another of Guy Gavriel Kay's brilliant historical fantasies. This one blends Norse, Celtic, and Anglo-Saxon histories with a bit of faerie mythos. We follow a few main characters from each of these societies as they interact with each other to shape their land and destinies.

The Last Light of the Sun by Guy Gavriel Kay

The Last Light of the Sun is a 2004 fantasy novel by Canadian writer Guy Gavriel Kay. Like many of his books, it is set in a world that draws heavily upon real times, events, places and people. In this particular book, the period is the Viking invasions of Saxon England. The story concerns a young Erling's attempt to prove himself as a warrior, his father's attempts to make amends for his mistakes, a young prince searching for revenge and a King's attempt to transform his realm into a more civil

The Last Light of the Sun - Wikipedia

The Last Light of the Sun is a change of venue for Guy Gavriel Kay, away from the sun-dappled world of the Mediterranean he explored in The Lions of Al-Rassan and The Sarantine Mosaic and into Northern Europe in the Early Middle Ages. The world Kay builds here is the greatest strength of the book.
